Baby on the way?

Everything you need to know.

Having a baby turns your world upside down. Alongside countless beautiful moments, you also face many administrative issues. With this checklist, you can take things one step at a time.

Are you pregnant? Or are you planning to adopt a child? Congratulations! You are undoubtedly entering a period full of surprises. Expanding your family has a big impact on your life. There is also much to consider, both practically and administratively. We are happy to help you with this list so that you don't forget anything. Please note that some issues differ slightly for employees and the self-employed. Consider for example the number of weeks of maternity leave. Be sure to check our website for the information that applies to your situation.

1. Before your pregnancy

☐ Hospitalisation insurance

0 - 6 months

Are you eagerly anticipating the birth, or maybe even feeling a bit anxious about it? In any case, make sure that you do not have to worry about the associated invoice. Without hospitalisation insurance, childbirth can be very expensive. Insure yourself before your pregnancy. You will otherwise face restrictions when it comes to reimbursements.

The waiting period after joining is 6 months. This period can be shortened or cancelled if you switch from an equivalent health insurance policy.

2. Newly pregnant

■ Maternity protection and maternity leave

0 - 3 months

Inform your employer of your pregnancy. Doing so will give you maternity protection against dismissal, night work, etc. This will enable you to sleep soundly - for as long as it lasts. In order to enjoy your statutory 15 weeks of maternity leave as an employee, you must provide your employer with a medical certificate stating the probable date of birth.

Childcare

0 - 3 months

A day-care centre or child-minding centre close to you makes life so much easier. Start your search early and plan a visit. Found the perfect place? Register your child immediately if there is space. Did you know that we also offer childcare?

Take a look at www.helankinderopvang.be.

■ Midwife

0 - 3 months

A midwife's knowledge and support before and after childbirth are certainly not an unnecessary luxury. An extra pair of helping hands, in addition to those of your doctor. Consider for example the medical follow-up of your pregnancy, help with breastfeeding, weighing your baby, wound care, etc. You are reimbursed for the costs of a midwife via the statutory health insurance.

Did you know that...

...The decision to give birth in a single or multi-person room can influence the choice of your hospitalisation insurance? And that maternity care is also partly reimbursed through Hospitalia Medium and Plus?

☐ Starting amount

5,5 months

Small children... big costs.

The one-off Starting Amount you get from the 7th month of pregnancy is therefore more than welcome. Apply for the Starting Amount from one of the five payers, such as for example MyFamily.

☐ Maternity care

6 months

As a Helan health insurance fund customer, you are entitled to a reimbursement of 5 euros per hour, with a maximum of 150 euros per affiliated parent for maternity care, from 1 month before birth to 3 months afterwards. To bathe your baby while you have a moment's rest, to help you with household chores and much more. You are advised to apply for maternity care when you are 6 months pregnant. If not, there may be an increased waiting period. Do so through Helan Maternity Care at www.helankraamzorg.be.

If you have Hospitalia Medium or Hospitalia Plus, you are entitled to an additional 7 days of maternity care. Be sure to check the conditions of your insurance.

■ Whooping cough vaccination

7 months

If you are vaccinated against whooping cough during your pregnancy, your baby will be born with antibodies. This way, your child will be well protected until getting their own vaccination. Anyone else who comes into frequent contact with your child should also be vaccinated.

Helan reimburses you up to 25 euros per year for approved vaccinations.

☐ Maternity leave

7,5 months

You are entitled to 15 weeks of maternity leave as a wage earner or job seeker and 12 weeks as a self-employed person. In order to apply for your benefit, we need a medical certificate stating the estimated delivery date at the earliest 6 weeks before the expected delivery date, and later on also the birth certificate of your baby. Simply send us these documents through My Helan.

☐ Recognising a child

7,5 months

When you cohabit de facto or legally, as a father or co-parent, you must officially recognise your child. It is best to do this before the birth to avoid both parents having to register the baby together after the birth.

After all, this is not easy for a new mum who has just given birth. Are you married? If so, your partner automatically has all his/her rights as a father or co-mother and this prior recognition is not necessary for the partner to declare the birth alone.

Free help for self-employed moms

An extra helping hand as a self-employed mom. Are you returning to work as a self-employed mom? Then get 105 hours of free maternity help through the social insurance fund.

4. After birth
